

3rd Biftec class has been awarded the Master's degree in "Food Science, technology and business" on 16th of September 2019 in Gent, KU Leuven.

They are 37 students from 20 nations all over the world (India, Philippines, Mexico, Italy, Greece, Taiwan, Ukraine, Equador, Chile....)

Together with KU Leuven in Gent, Universidade Católica Portuguesa in Porto and Anhalt University of Applied Science could students learn in scientific education in subject area of

- Food Biotechnology
- Safety, Process and Quality Management
- Product Development
- Environmental Practices and Sustainability
- Business and Economics in Food Industry
- Innovations in Food Engineering and Technology

26 students have taken their internship/Master Thesis successfully under supervising of Anhalt University

Foto: Graduation of Biftec students in Gent - cohort 2017 - 2019
Prof. Schnäckel, Sandra Warmuth and supervised students

Biftec study course goes on with additional focusing of sustainability

On meeting in Gent coordination team decided to extend the course with looking forward the future in producing foods on sustainability and environmentally responsibility earth.

Foto: native research center of agriculture in Iden (Saxony Anhalt)